JUNE HIGHLIGHTS

Socioeconomic and Geopolitical events:

There are four major periods indicated for June--

May 30 – June 7 Transformation. The global context is changed by a catalytic event which causes responses of anger and action.

June 8 – 13 Diplomatic Maneuvering. There is an appearance that diplomatic solutions might be possible during this time. People are feeling unsafe or vulnerable; risk averse.

June 14 – 23 The U.S. Strikes Back. Most likely interpretation of the mood and perception patterns is that the U.S. is striking back decisively at whoever crossed the line. Spatial patterns point to N. Korea as a likely target. People are glued to the latest news.

June 24 – 29 Climax. Completion of the task and a declaration of some type of victory by the U.S. Negotiations would likely begin here toward some type of resolution. However, the pattern suggests that the U.S. is not seeing the picture clearly and is delusional or in denial about the situation.

Natural events:

June 9-14 and June 28 – July 3 are the greatest risk periods for natural events with moderate to high losses. Of particular interest is Southern California, for which a moderate earthquake watch is issued. Also, the Eastern half of N. America looks like a candidate for more storms and flooding in June.

MAY RECAP

The May alert “Terrorism, War, and Asia” warned of escalation of the Korean situation, and/or unrest or terrorist type activity in China or Korea. Here are some headlines that corresponded with that alert (as of May 29):

5/12/11: Two small explosions at the Seoul Train Station

5/16/11: China blocks U.N. report showing N. Korea and Iran sharing ballistic missile technology

5/26/11: Rare series of bombings hit China government buildings

5/27/11: Parts of China under martial law as protests spread

5/29/11: N. Korea nears completion of base for "attack hovercraft"

The charts, maps, and notes on the following pages were used in the analysis for the timeline and any alerts that may have been published separately. They are included here for those interested in the technical details behind our analysis.

Nature – Global themes for the month of June:

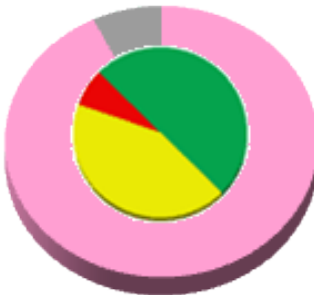

Nature – Karma / Justice. Nature is seeking balance. High “Earth” factors may indicate focus on Earth based events (earthquakes and volcanoes) or the earth ecosystem as a whole. Watch for proliferation of mosquitoes, flies, ticks, and other opportunistic species (i.e. those that thrive in damaged ecosystems).

(Mood factors: NW+, SW-, N+, S-)

Global Leaders / Global Context – Themes for the month of June:

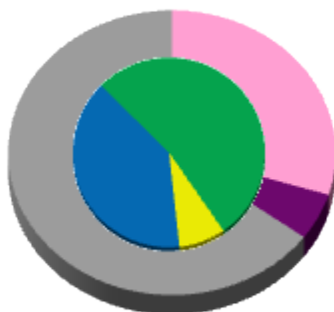

Global System – Under Duress. High anxiety/stress to the global system. Bad news, facts, data. Not a feeling or hunch, it’s a reality, news.

(Mood factors: SE+, SW-, E+, W-)

Human Societies – Themes for the month of June:

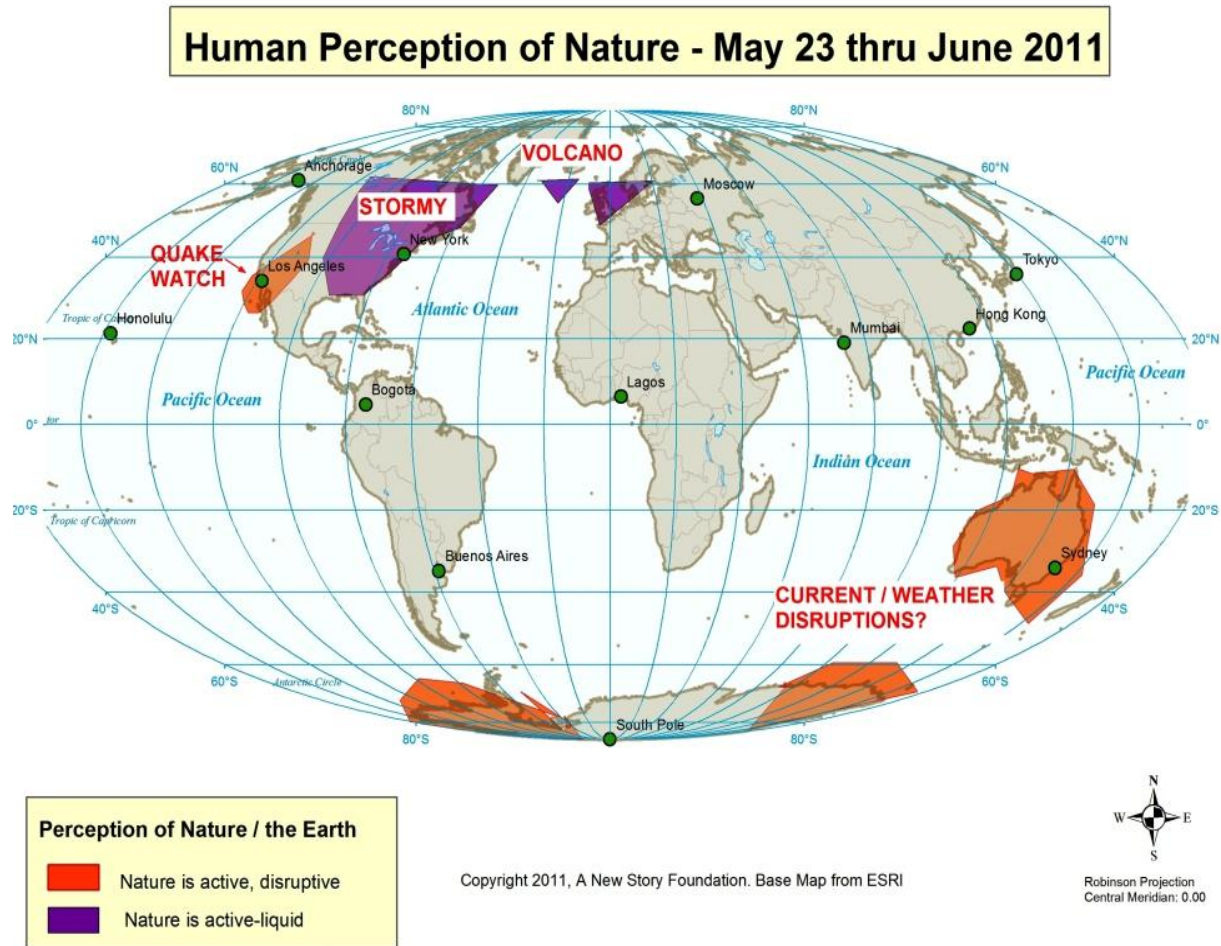

Human Societies – Searching for Safety. People are in general feeling unsafe, vulnerable, wanting to be close to home and loved ones. High risk aversion; market volatility likely.

(Mood factors: NE+, SW-, N+, W-)

U.S. Government – Themes for the month of June:

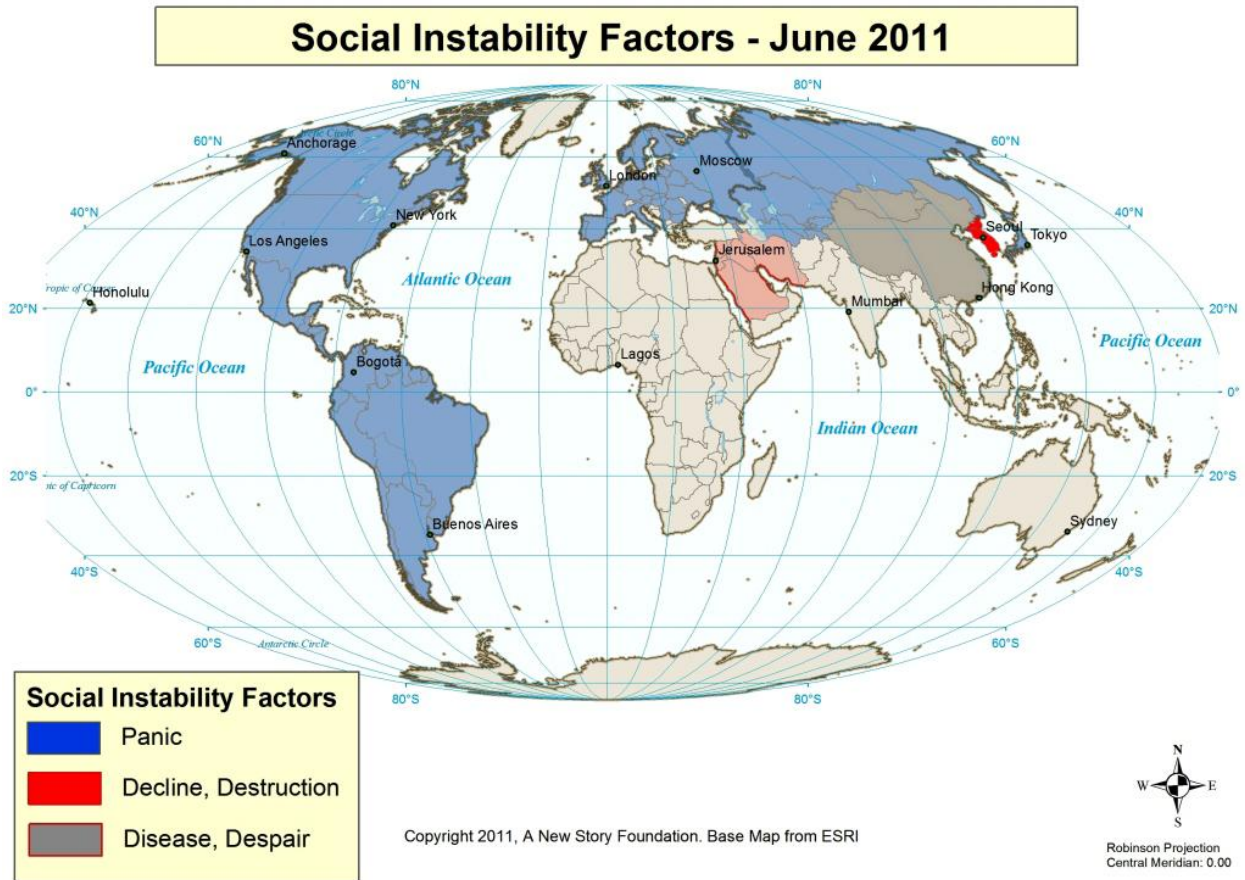

U.S. Government – Death and Justice. The government is perceived to be the receiver or giver of death and justice. There is little room for talk, diplomacy, or negotiations. Self-interest / protectionism is high.

(Mood factors: NW+, NE, SE-, N+, W, S-)

Nature is ACTIVE and LIQUID between E. North America and Europe. Watch for heavy precipitation, flooding in Eastern N. America and Europe and continuing volcanic activity in Iceland.

Nature is ACTIVE and DISRUPTIVE in S. California Australia, and Antarctica. A moderate earthquake watch is issued for S. California. The Australia indication may reflect ecosystem damage or unstable weather. Current changes may be indicated off of Antarctica.

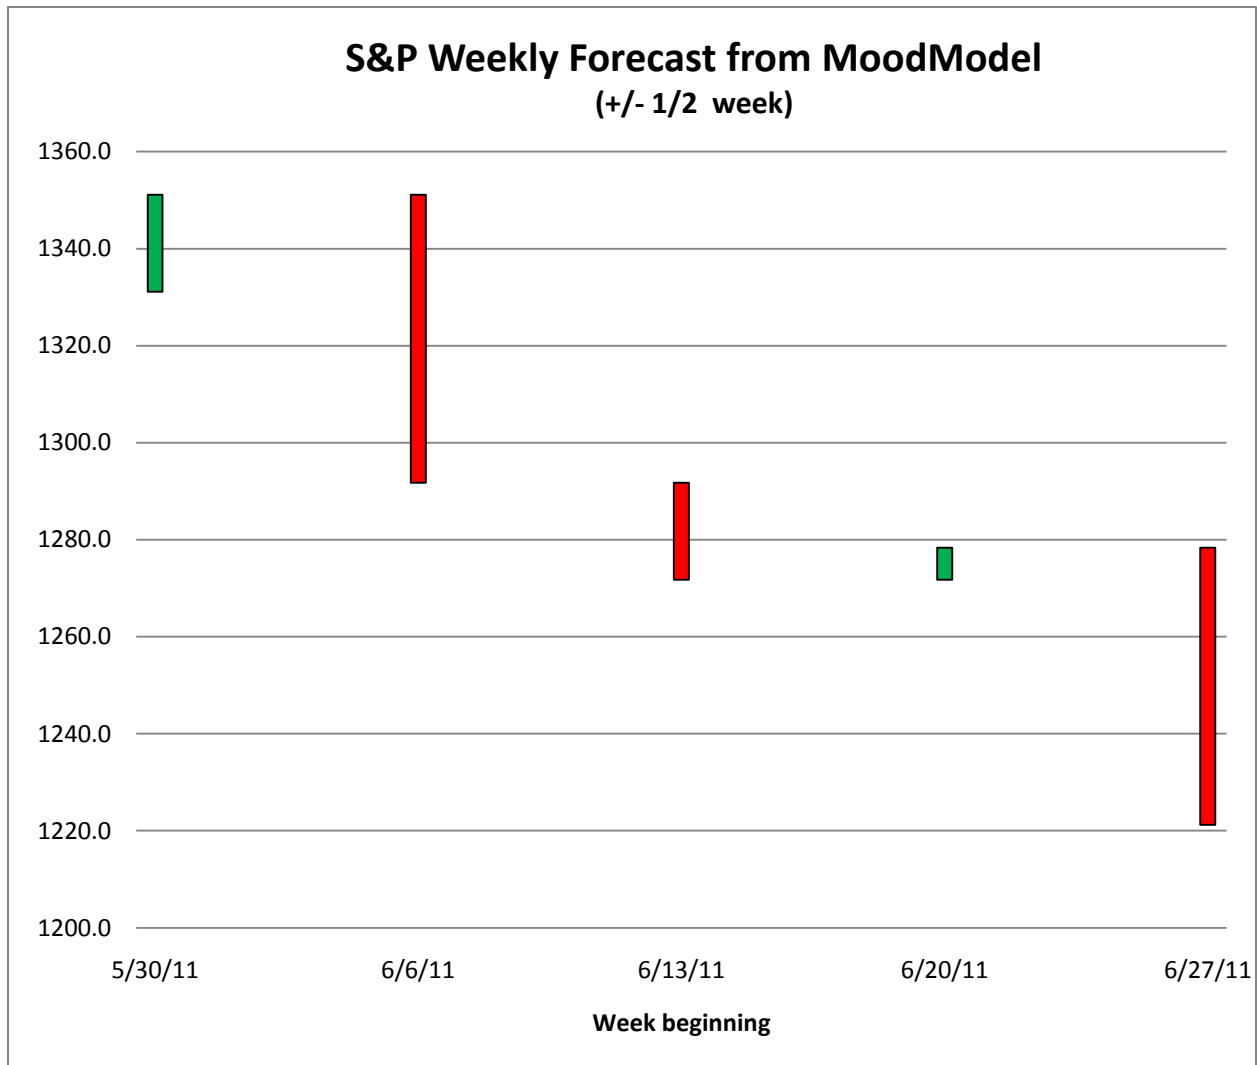

Widespread panic (high W with Animus (SW) high) possible in the developed world -- may indicate market instability, or concerns with news events. Note that this panic signature is not scaled. It may be mild or moderate. Two primary hotspots continue to be the Middle East and Korea, reflecting high entropy factors. The high Somber factor in China (marked disease, despair), may reflect martial law or other repressive measures used by the government to thwart unrest.

Projected Geopolitical Posturing - June 2011

The U.S. becomes the primary hostile nation in the month of June with NATO countries at varying degrees of cooperation. N. Korea and possibly China are the likely “other.”

After a rebound early on, the stock market should continue its decline in earnest. Watch for a brief rebound in late June followed by the climax to this decline wave.

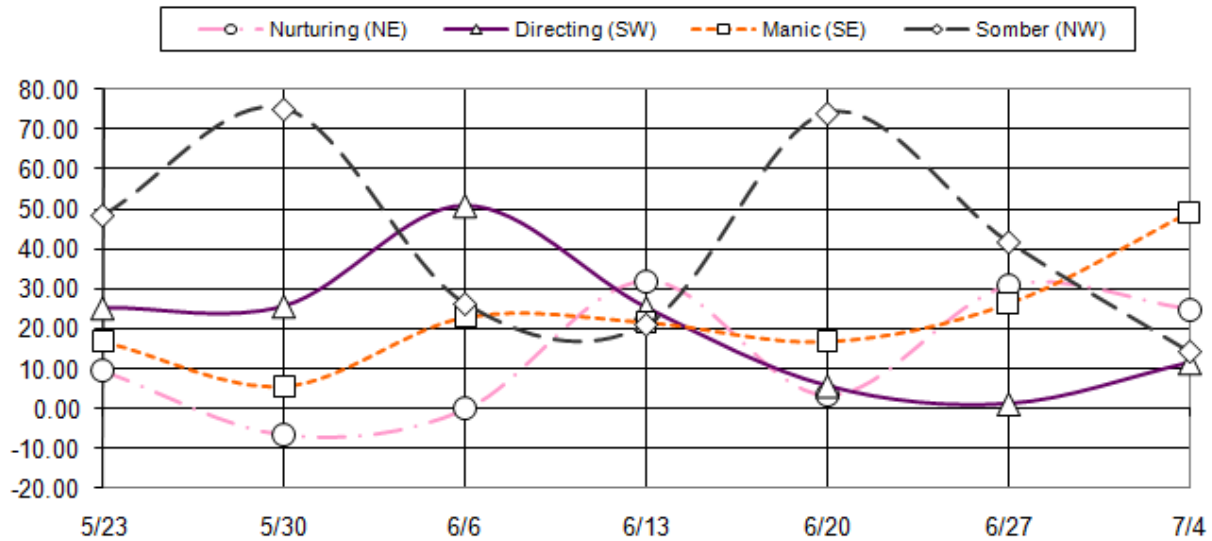

The above chart displays the output of a model that converts the values and relationships of the Moodlines on page 10 into a stock market forecast.

This matches the scenario of the U.S. government pounding somebody from mid to late June and then claiming victory at the end.

About MoodCompass

The MoodCompass profiles an entity based on the relative presence of four primary characteristics or of four hybrid characteristics. A profile expressed in terms of primary characteristics weighs the entity’s relative focus on identity (north), focus on activity (south), use of intuition (west), and use of logic (east). A profile expressed in terms of hybrid characteristics weighs the entity’s relative amount of nurturing behavior (northeast), directing behavior (southwest), manic expression (southeast), and somber expression (northwest). It was named the MoodCompass because the eight characteristics are best viewed in circular relation to one another like points on a compass:

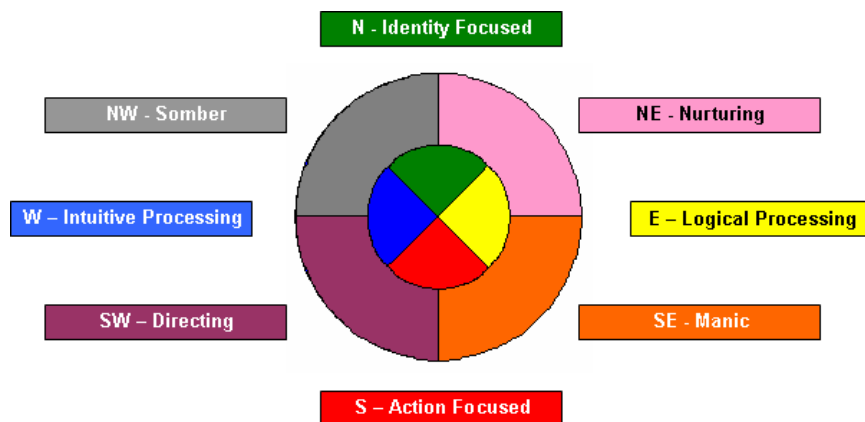

Primary Characteristics

Hybrid Characteristics

The two sets of characteristics are inter-related. Each characteristic is a combination of the two that surround it. This relationship can be viewed by embedding a pie chart of the primary characteristics inside a pie chart of the hybrid characteristics: For example, the primary characteristic (W) Intuitive Processing is a combination of the two hybrid characteristics (SW) Directing and (NW) Somber. Likewise, the hybrid characteristic (NE) Nurturing is a combination of (N) Identity Focused and (E) Logic Processing.
